TWENTY-THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THOUGHTS FOR SOWING

CROOKED LINES

Even though you meant harm to me, God meant it for good... Genesis 50:20

After Jacob dies, his sons fear that Joseph will seek revenge against them for selling him into slavery. But Joseph tells them not to fear. We might wonder, how could Joseph forgive his brothers so completely? The answer lies in his words quoted above. He does not deny the wrong they did, but he sees the bigger picture now. God used their wicked deed to bring about a greater good: the saving of God's people from famine.

The old Portuguese proverb expresses this belief well: "God writes straight with crooked lines." Even the imperfections, failings and evil of human beings can aid to bring about God's beautiful designs. Let us recall this when life does not go the way we want or plan. From ugliness, God can bring forth beauty; from failure, success; from death, life; from evil, good.

QUESTIONS FOR REFLECTION BEFORE YOU VOTE ON September 20, 2021

- How can we collectively work toward a practical plan to reduce carbon emissions by the amount recommended by the scientific community and within the timeline they call for?
- Besides fighting climate change, in what other ways should government be protecting Canada's environment?

FEDERAL ELECTION RESOURCES FROM A CATHOLIC PERSPECTIVE

With a federal election scheduled for September 20, Catholics are encouraged to learn more about the parties and candidates seeking our vote. Catholic Conscience is Canada's non-partisan Catholic civic and political engagement organization. They have prepared a number of resources that will assist Catholics in voter education and engagement in the days leading up to the federal election. These resources can be accessed at:

www.catholicconscience.org/Canada-federal-current. All those eligible to vote are encouraged to do so on, or before, September 20, 2021.

THE ENVIRONMENT CARING FOR OUR COMMON HOME

When it comes to the environment, Pope Francis calls us to have a personal change of heart and a collective transformation that responds to "both the cry of the earth and the cry of the poor." In his encyclical Laudato Si', On Care for Our Common home, he issues an urgent challenge to all of us "to protect our common home... to bring the whole human family together to seek a sustainable and integral development, for we know that things can change."

While Earth is our common home, we continue to act in a way that damages our relationship with it by harming the environment. This also damages our relationship with those around us, especially the most vulnerable in our society.

To bring about positive change, individuals, families and communities can make a difference in small yet significant ways. This includes making sustainable choices, reducing waste and changing our lifestyle when needed. In this way we take steps towards a deeper spiritual ecological conversion.

FACTS

- Canada's average annual temperature increased 1.7°C over the past 70 years. Scientists believe human activity caused more than half of this change.
- If carbon emissions aren't reduced, Canada's average temperature could rise up to 6°C by the end of the century, causing more extreme weather.
- Canada produces 1.6% of global carbon emissions. We have the highest carbon emissions per capita among wealthy, industrialized countries. Canada is the 9th highest carbon emitter by country.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTIONS

Ephphata!

In the Gospel today, Jesus encounters a deaf man who is brought to Jesus to be healed of his impairment. The deaf man didn't come on his own initiative, but rather was brought by the people who begged Jesus to lay his hands on this man and heal him. This selfless action of the people, who didn't seek healing for themselves or for some favour to be granted to them, but instead sought the healing of the deaf man is beautiful example of the power of intercessory prayer. The deaf man was healed not because of his faith or desire, but of the faith and desire of those who brought him to Jesus.

As the prophet Isaiah declared in the first reading, "Be strong, fear not! Here is your God, he comes with vindication; with divine recompense he comes to save you." Christ came to bring healing, comfort, and forgiveness. Jesus desires to speak those healings words we hear in today's Gospel to everyone, 'be opened!', yet many people, including ourselves are not able to hear it because of our spiritual deafness. We may not even realize that we need the healing, after being so caught up in our own spiritual deafness. When people are unable to come to Jesus because they feel unworthy, or maybe don't know what Jesus loves them, our intercessory prayer becomes crucial as we bring before the Lord the people who need Jesus' healing touch and love.

As stewards, we are responsible for bringing people to Christ through our prayers and work of evangelization. Stewards understand that they have received many gifts from the Lord and wish to share that with others so that those around them can also partake in God's blessings. In what ways do we bring people to Christ so that Christ can bestow his blessings. Do we participate in the missionary action of the Church? Do we welcome new parishioners? Do we pray often for the needs of the people around us? Even if we are unable to bring people physically to church, let us make a greater effort to spend more time in prayer, praying for those we know in our lives who require Christ's healing.

Summary

The healing of the deaf man in today's Gospel was a result of the people bringing the deaf man to Jesus, a beautiful example of the power and necessity of intercessory prayer. Christ came to bring healing, but many times people we know, or even ourselves don't go to Christ because we feel unworthy and stop ourselves from going to Him. Through our prayers, we do what the people in the Gospel did, bringing to Jesus those who need healing and allowing Christ to heal them through us.
